How to contribute to Sympa ?

Provide new perl code for new feature in Sympa is not the only way to contribute to Sympa project. The following contribution can also be very usefull for the project :

- participate to the cooperative support to Sympa users in on of the mailing list
- let known sympa-authors you are using Sympa giving some feedback about your usage and your needs in the future
- describe bugs with enough details using bug tracker
- early test of new sympa version (alpha, beta and release candidat)
- contribute to some of the translation : see http://pootle.sympa.org
- make the web interface more pretty changing the tt2 templates (why not propose a new skin ?)
- contribute to the documentation or to this web site.
- Become a Sympa core developer

How to edit Sympa web site ?

Most part of the web site can be modified using the dokuwiki feature. Authorization is mostly open to any subscriber of one of sympa-xxx@cru.fr mailing lists. You just need to login to the wiki engine using your email adress and the same password you are using when you log to http://listes.cru.fr/sympa

Ones you are authenticated, browse the page you want to change and use the link "Edit this page".

You can contrib to the faq, the contribs but you are also welcome to fix the reference manual or any other part of the site.

From:
https://www.sympa.org/ - Sympa mailing list server

Permanent link:
https://www.sympa.org/internals/how_to_contribute_to_sympa?rev=1294673280

Last update: 2011/01/10 16:28